

Project Manager (G3) for the Translational genomics and targeted therapies in solid tumours.

Code: FU-445/2024

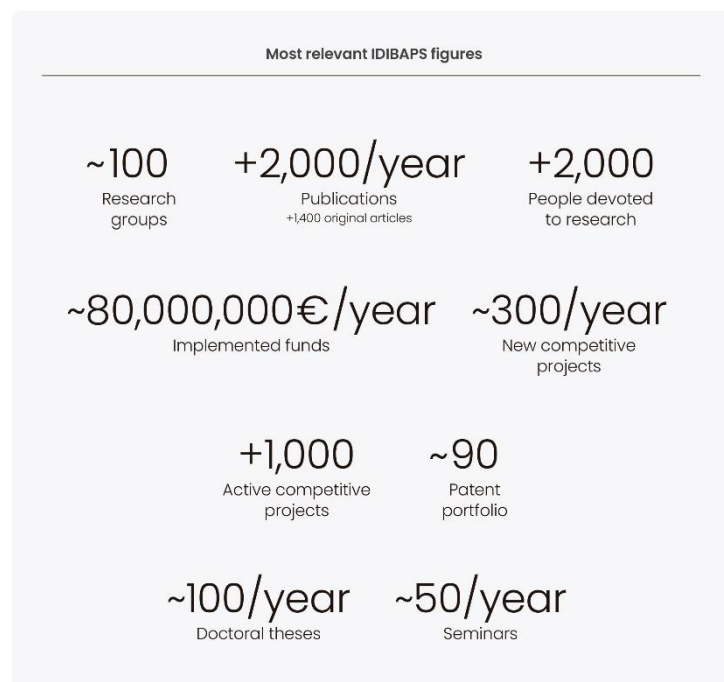

About the institution

The Barcelona Clinical Research Foundation-August Pi i Sunyer Biomedical Research Institute (IDIBAPS) is a biomedical research centre of excellence, located on the Barcelona Clinic Campus and with a clear international focus.

The IDIBAPS research community includes over 2,000 professionals and a hundred multidisciplinary groups that carry out high-impact translational research aimed at addressing biological and clinical questions relevant to human health, as evidenced by the more than 1,500 original articles published each year that make the institution one of the main biomedical research centres in Spain.

The Clínic Campus offers a high-level research and innovation environment, which includes the Hospital Clínic of Barcelona, a referral hospital committed to care, research and teaching, which covers practically all medical and surgical specialties, plus the University of Barcelona's Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences. The latter dates from 1843 and is today one of the most prestigious health sciences faculties in Spain and worldwide.

Since 2015, IDIBAPS has had HR Excellence in Research accreditation from the European Commission. It is a CERCA centre and is accredited as a Health Research Institute by the Carlos III Health Institute (ISCIII).

UNIÓN EUROPEA

Job description

Pre-award:

- Support in the preparation and drafting of research and innovation proposals (active contribution to proposal writing, defining project objectives, coordinating with project partners, budget preparation, advice on execution, among other matters).
- Negotiation of the grant agreement and consortium agreement in coordination with the pre-award office.
- Management of financial, legal, and administrative matters.
- Identification of networks, actions, and initiatives that could represent a strategic opportunity for both the institution and the principal investigator.

Post-award:

- Monitoring the work plan, assisting in the organization of meetings, and project dissemination.
- Coordination with internal and external stakeholders throughout the project lifecycle, including project execution.
- Responsible for a portfolio of projects, mainly European ones.
- Budget planning, monitoring, and financial justification of research and innovation projects in coordination with the post-award office.
- High involvement in the preparation of the scientific and technical justifications of research and innovation projects.
- Monitoring of eligible costs, execution extensions, justification reports, and financial reports, maintaining a direct relationship with the project monitoring team.
- Communication with the principal investigator, consortium partners, and funding institutions/agencies.
- Managing relationships with auditors and overseeing the audit process.
- Acting as the permanent liaison between the institution, the funder, the research staff, coordinators, management units, etc., to address needs that arise during the project lifecycle: resource reallocation, changes in the research team, extension requests, etc.

The role requires an empathetic and proactive person, organized, persistent, responsible, and rigorous. Someone with decision-making skills and autonomy, accustomed to working in a client-oriented manner. The ideal candidate will possess strong interpersonal and conflict-resolution abilities to continuously and proactively find solutions, with a high degree of involvement with the research group and institution to achieve a successful outcome.
